The novel opens with Aunt Polly scouring the house in search of her nephew, Tom Sawyer. She finds him in the closet, discovers that his hands are covered with jam, and prepares to give him a whipping. Tom cries out dramatically, "Look behind you!" and when Aunt Polly turns, Tom escapes over the fence. After Tom is gone, Aunt Polly reflects sadly on Tom's errant ways and how she lets him get away with too much.

Tom comes home at suppertime. He is famished and wants nothing but a good meal and to hear about his adventures. During supper, Aunt Polly tells Tom that he will not be skipped school that afternoon and must eat his dinner before he goes back to school. Tom is thrilled and down for a good meal. Aunt Polly is satisfied.

Tom and the new arrival enter the house together. Tom is overjoyed, and eventually, Tom's mother arrives. When he returns home in the evening, Tom finds Aunt Polly waiting for him. She notices his dirtied clothes and resolves to make him work the next day, a Saturday, as punishment.

On Saturday morning, Aunt Polly sends Tom out to whitewash the fence. Tom begins to paint, and Tom then tries to get him to do some of the whitewashing in return for a "white alley," a kind of noble. Tom's mother agrees, but Aunt Polly appears and changes her mind, leaving Tom alone with his tasks.
