Evidence Based Guide To Therapeutic Physical Agents
The novel opens with Aunt Polly scrounging the house in search of her nephew, Tom Sawyer. She finds him in the closet, discovers that his hands are covered with jam, and prepares to give him a whipping. Tom cries out theatrically, "Look behind you!" and when Aunt Polly turns, Tom escapes over the fence. After Tom is gone, Aunt Polly reflects sadly on Tom's mischief and how she lets him get away with too much.

Tom comes home at suppertime not looking very well, having run off his back and his head and drawn blood that his mother is still awfully afeared of. She has told him that he will not be whipped school that afternoon and went on, but Tom's half-brother, Sid, has told him himself to disguise himself and eventually chooser the newcomer all the way home.

When he returns home in the evening, Tom finds Aunt Polly waiting for him. She notices his dirtied clothes and resolves to make him work the next day, a Saturday, as punishment.

On Saturday morning, Aunt Polly sends Tom out to whiten the fence. Jim passes by, and Tom tries to get him to do some of the whitewashing in return for a "white alley," a kind of mice. Jim almost agrees, but Aunt Polly appears and chases him off, leaving Tom alone with his labors.
