The novel opens with Aunt Polly scouring the house in search of her nephew, Tom Sawyer. She finds him in the closet, discovers that his hands are covered with jam, and prepares to give him a whipping. Tom cries out theatrically, “Look behind you!” and when Aunt Polly turns, Tom escapes over the fence. After Tom is gone, Aunt Polly reflects sadly on Tom’s naughtiness and how she lets him get away with too much.

Tom returns home at supper time. Tom has told his mother about his adventures. During supper, Aunt Polly asks him why he was skipped school that afternoon and what nonsense he has been up to. Tom lies about his activities, but Aunt Polly is satisfied.

Tom and the new arrival of Huckleberry Finn gang up on Tom’s older brother, Sid. Tom plans to use Finn’s help to escape his punishment. Finn has been tricked into stealing a jug of whisky and has to deliver it to Ben Rogers. Tom has arranged for Finn to steal the jug and deliver it to Rogers.

When Tom returns home in the evening, Tom finds Aunt Polly waiting for him. She notices his dirty clothes and resolves to make him work the next day, a Saturday, as punishment.

On Saturday morning, Aunt Polly sends Tom out to whitewash the fence. Jim passes by, and Tom tries to get Jim to do some of the whitewashing in return. As a “white alibi,” a kind of excuse, Jim almost agrees, but Aunt Polly appears and chases him off, leaving Tom alone with his tasks.
