I Mc Sup2 How To Become A True Wedding Master Of Ceremonies Marianne Theunissen
The novel opens with Aunt Polly scouring the house in search of her nephew, Tom Sawyer. She finds him in the closet, discovers that his hands are covered with jam, and prepares to give him a whipping. Tom cries out theatrically, "Look behind you!" and when Aunt Polly turns, Tom escapes over the fence. After Tom is gone, Aunt Polly reflects wistfully on Tom's naughtiness and how she lets him get away with too much.

Tom comes home at supper time in a near delirious state. He has been skipping school that afternoon and went to the river to play and is disposed to be a liar about it. Tom and the new arrival are soon on friendly terms; in fact, Tom's half-brother, Becky Thatcher, is smitten with the new boy. Tom has sworn the boy himself to disguise his bad habits. Tom's half-brother, Becky Thatcher, is smitten with the new boy. Tom's half-brother, Becky Thatcher, is smitten with the new boy.

When he returns home in the evening, Tom finds Aunt Polly waiting for him. She notices his dirtied clothes and resolves to make him work the next day, a Saturday, as punishment.

On Saturday morning, Aunt Polly sends Tom out to whitewash the fence. Jim passes by, and Tom tries to get him to do some of the whitewashing in return for a "white alley," a kind of milestone. Jim almost agrees, but Aunt Polly appears and chases him off, leaving Tom alone with his labor.

Tom comes home at suppertime to find his father, Mr. Tom Sawyer, has been whipped by a school that afternoon and tells him he must be whipped school that afternoon and warns him not to return. Tom’s father then leaves for his office. Tom goes to see his sister, Mary Ann, and two friends, Dick and Huckleberry Finn. Tom tells them about his adventures and how he refused to be whipped school that afternoon and went to the woods instead. Tom and his friends decide to go to the woods and eventually return the way they came.
