Modern Philosophy An Introduction And Survey
The novel opens with Aunt Polly scouring the house in search of her nephew, Tom Sawyer. She finds him in the closet, discovers that his hands are covered with ink, and prepares to give him a whipping. Tom cries out theatrically, “Look behind you!” and when Aunt Polly turns, Tom escapes over the fence. After Tom is gone, Aunt Polly reflects heartily on Tom’s mischief and how she lets him get away with too much.

Tom comes home at suppertime. At supper, Aunt Polly tells Tom that it’s decided he will be whipped and that he will be skipped school that afternoon and sent down to the woods to whitenew a fence. However, Tom’s half-brother, Sid, has stolen the ink to disguise his handwriting. While wandering the streets of St. Petersburg, Tom and the new arrival encounter some runners, and eventually chase the newcomers all the way home.

When he returns home in the evening, Tom finds Aunt Polly waiting for him. She notices his dirty clothes and resolves to make him work the next day, a Saturday, as punishment.

On Saturday morning, Aunt Polly sends Tom out to whitewash the fence. Jim passes by, and Tom tries to get Jim to do some of the whitewashing in return for a “white alley,” a kind of muddle for almost anyone, but Aunt Polly appears and chases him off, leaving Tom alone with his task.
