Reprint Williams William The Principles And Practice Of Veterinary Surgery By William Williams New York
The novel opens with Aunt Polly scouring the house in search of her nephew, Tom Sawyer. She finds him in the closet, discovers that his hands are covered with jam, and prepares to give him a whipping. Tom cries out defensively, “Look behind you!” and when Aunt Polly turns, Tom escapes over the fence. After Tom is gone, Aunt Polly reflects sorrowfully on Tom’s misdeeds and how she lets him get away with too much.

Tom comes home at supper time. His clothes are dirty and torn, and he is covered with mud. He tells about his adventures. During supper, Aunt Polly asks him about his adventures. Tom tells how he was skiped school that afternoon and went swimming in the river. He got his clothes all wet, and Aunt Polly is satisfied. Tom’s half brother, Jack, and his gang, also went swimming and eventually chased the newcomers all the way home.

When he returns home in the evening, Tom finds Aunt Polly waiting for him. She notices his dirty clothes and resolves to make him work the next day, a Saturday, as punishment.

On Saturday morning, Aunt Polly sends Tom out to whitewash the fence. He leaves by, and Tom tries to get him to do some of the whitewashing in return for a “wage.” A kind of nuisance he is, almost agrees, but Aunt Polly appears and chases him off, leaving Tom alone with his task.
The novel opens with Aunt Polly scouring the house in search of her nephew, Tom Sawyer. She finds him in the closet, discovers that his hands are covered with jam, and prepares to give him a whipping. Tom cries out theatrically, "Look behind you!" and when Aunt Polly turns, Tom escapes over the fence. After Tom is gone, Aunt Polly reflects sadly on Tom's misbehavior and how she lets him get away with too much.

Tom comes home at sunset and tells Aunt Polly about his adventures. During supper, Aunt Polly asks how Tom has been skipping school that afternoon and what mischief has he been up to. Tom tells her he has been skipping school that afternoon and what mischief has he been up to. Aunt Polly is satisfied, but still, Tom's half-brother, Huck, is a problem. Huck has sneaked the shot himself to disprove his claim to Tom's inheritance.

Tom goes out of the house in the evening, and Aunt Polly is worried about his whereabouts. While wandering the streets of St. Petersburg, Tom sees a boat with a man inside. He decides to go on a adventure and eventuallyrous to the new arrival of a boatman, who takes the boys on a trip and eventually bonuses.
