The novel opens with Aunt Polly scouring the house in search of her nephew, Tom Sawyer. She finds him in the closet, discovers that his hands are covered with jam, and prepares to give him a whipping. Tom cries out theatrically, "Look behind you!" and when Aunt Polly turns, Tom escapes over the fence. After Tom is gone, Aunt Polly reflects sadly on Tom's misbehavior and how she lets him get away with too much.

Tom goes out to supper but is sick at heart and does not eat his food. He still has about his adventures. During supper, Aunt Polly tells him he will be skipped school that afternoon and must remain home. Tom throws down his fork and runs out the door, saying he would rather starve than stay home. Aunt Polly is satisfied. Tom goes out into the street and is overtaken by the river, which he makes his home for a while. When he returns home in the evening, Tom finds Aunt Polly waiting for him. She accuses him of dirty clothes and resolves to make him work the next day, a Saturday, as punishment.

On Saturday morning, Aunt Polly sends Tom out to whiten the fence. As he passes by, Tom tries to get him to do some of the whitening in return for a "white alley." Aunt Polly agrees, but Aunt Polly appears and chases him off, leaving Tom alone with his tasks.
