Teaching Young Children With Adhd Successful Strategies And Practical Interventions For Prek 3
The novel opens with Aunt Polly scouring the house in search of her nephew, Tom Sawyer. She finds him in the closet, discovers that his hands are covered with jam, and prepares to give him a whipping. Tom cries out theatrically, "Look behind you!" and when Aunt Polly turns, Tom escapes over the fence. After Tom is gone, Aunt Polly reflects wistfully on Tom's mischievous and how she lets him get away with too much.

Tom comes home at suppertime. He has been to St. Petersburg and is full of adventures. During supper, Aunt Polly brings up Tom's education. Tom has been skipped school that afternoon and went reenacting a scene from a book she has read. He is stubborn, and she fears he will not be a good scholar. Aunt Polly is satisfied. Tom says he is going to learn a trade and be a useful man.

Tom goes out of the house to buy whistling. While wandering the streets of St. Petersburg, he is met by a man who appears befuddled and extravagant. Tom and the new arrival exchange pleasantries and eventually chase the newcomer all the way home.

When he returns home in the evening, Tom finds Aunt Polly waiting for him. She notices his dirty clothes and resolves to make him work the next day, a Saturday, as punishment.

On Saturday morning, Aunt Polly sends Tom out to whitewash the fence. Jim passes by, and Tom tries to get him to do some of the whitewashing in return for a "white alley," a kind of muzzle. Jim almost agrees, but Aunt Polly appears and chases him off, leaving Tom alone with his task.

Tom comes home at suppertime, his hands covered in jam. He tells his aunt that he has been skipping school, that he has been in the woods and done some mischief. Aunt Polly is satisfied, but she tells Tom he will be skipped school that afternoon and must go to church. Tom is sent to his room to wash his hands. Aunt Polly is pleased with Tom’s behavior and goes to tell her husband that Tom has done well.

Tom goes out of the house into the back yard, but his sister Mary comes into the yard and Tom tries to get away from her. Tom sees a dog running loose and decides to chase it. While chasing the dog, Tom comes across one of Aunt Polly’s neighbors. The neighbor tells Tom that his dog is a good dog and that Tom should not have chased it.
