The Compendium Of Professional Basketball Second Edition
The novel opens with Aunt Polly scrowning the house in search of her nephew, Tom Sawyer. She finds him in the closet, discovers that his hands are covered with jam, and prepares to give him a whipping. Tom cries out theatrically, “Look behind you!” and when Aunt Polly turns, Tom escapes over the fence. After Tom is gone, Aunt Polly reflects sorrowfully on Tom’s mischief and how she lets him get away with too much.

Tom comes home at supper time and tells his tale of adventure. No one believes his story about his adventures. During supper, Aunt Polly tells Tom that he must be dressed for school that afternoon and won’t be allowed to play. Tom’s only friend, Benpenny, and his dog, Topsy, are no longer with him. Tom’s friend is still away from home, but Tom’s half-brother, Sid, comes to take a look at Tom and shows less than interest. Aunt Polly is satisfied.

Tom goes out of the house in the afternoon to explore the new arrival on the street, a strange man who has come to town. Tom and the new arrival chisel a hole in the basement and eventually chase the newcomer all the way home.

When he returns home in the evening, Tom finds Aunt Polly waiting for him. She notices his dirtied clothes and resolves to make him work the next day, a Saturday, as punishment.

On Saturday morning, Aunt Polly sends Tom out to whitewash the fence. Jim passes by, and Tom tries to get him to do some of the whitewashing in return for a “white alley,” a kind of necklace. Jim almost agrees, but Aunt Polly appears and chases him off, leaving Tom alone with his task.
The novel opens with Aunt Polly scouring the house in search of her nephew, Tom Sawyer. She finds him in the closet, discovers that his hands are covered with jam, and prepares to give him a whipping. Tom cries out dramatically, "Look behind you!" and when Aunt Polly turns, Tom escapes over the fence. After Tom is gone, Aunt Polly reflects bitterly on Tom's mischief and how she lets him get away with too much.

Tom comes home at suppertime, all dirty and disheveled. His collar is still wet from the rain and he has a large hole in his hat, but still, Tom's half-brother, Huck, shows him how to dress himself to disguise his dirt. Tom painted his face black and went to school that morning and went straight to the boys' washstand where his clothes are still worn from the rain. He filled his pockets with pennies and went down Main Street, whistling. While wandering the streets of St. Petersburg, Tom and the new arrival in town, Huckleberry Finn, encounter a group of boys, Tom and Huck go to the bank and eventually chase the aunt's cow down the street.

When he returns home in the evening, Tom finds Aunt Polly waiting for him. She notices his disheveled clothes and resolves to make him work the next day, a Saturday, as punishment.

On Saturday morning, Aunt Polly sends Tom out to whitewash the fence. Jim passes by, and Tom tries to get him to do some of the whitewashing in return for a "white alley," a kind of riddle. Jim almost agrees, but Aunt Polly appears and chases him off, leaving Tom alone with his tallow.
