Tumor Suppressing Viruses Genes And Drugs Innovative Cancer Therapy Approaches
The novel opens with Aunt Polly scowling the house in search of her nephew, Tom Sawyer. She finds him in the closet, discovers that his hands are covered with jam, and prepares to give him a whipping. Tom cries out theatrically, “Look behind you!” and when Aunt Polly turns, Tom escapes over the fence. After Tom is gone, Aunt Polly reflects sadly on Tom’s mischievous and how she lets him get away with too much.

Tom comes home at suppertime. He confesses he will have to be whipped, but he does not blame the head and shows her that his clothes are still severe from the beating. Aunt Polly is satisfied.

Tom goes out of the house in the evening, and Tom finds Aunt Polly waiting for him. She notices his dirtied clothes and resolves to make him work the next day, a Saturday, as punishment.

On Saturday morning, Aunt Polly sends Tom out to whitewash the fence. Jim passes by, and Tom tries to get him to do some of the whitewashing in return for a “white alley,” a kind of ushers’ cap. Jim almost agrees, but Aunt Polly appears and chases him off, leaving Tom alone with his paint.
