Equine Practice Volume 20
The novel opens with Aunt Polly scouring the house in search of her nephew, Tom Sawyer. She finds him in the closet, discovers that his hands are covered with jam, and prepares to give him a whipping. Tom cries out theatrically, "Look behind you!" and when Aunt Polly turns, Tom escapes over the fence. After Tom is gone, Aunt Polly reflects sadly on Tom's misconduct and how she lets him get away with too much.

Tom comes home at supper time. He is dressed in a pair of Sunday best pants and a shirt that his father was not pleased with. He has not been to the store since last week, and his collar is still covered with dirt. He tells his aunt that he has been doing the wash and is not feeling well. She insists that he is not allowed to be skiped school that day. When she is sure that the soup is ready, she goes to look for Tom. She finds him near the stove, snazzing his collar with his fingers. Aunt Polly is satisfied. She tells Tom that he is to get dressed up and go to the store with her.

Tom goes out of the house and is very pleased with himself. He has a new pair of shoes, and Aunt Polly has promised him a new pair of trousers if he behaves himself. He is very proud of his new clothes and walks down the street, whistling. While wandering the streets of St. Petersburg, Tom meets the new arrival of a rich woman. He starts to dream of wealth and adventure and eventually chases the newcomer all the way home.

When he returns home in the evening, Tom finds Aunt Polly waiting for him. She notices his dirtied clothes and resolves to make him work the next day, a Saturday, as punishment.

On Saturday morning, Aunt Polly sends Tom out to whitewash the fence. Tom passes by, and Tom talks to get him to do some of the whitewashing in return for a "store alley," a kind of marble. He almost agrees, but Aunt Polly appears and chases him off, leaving Tom alone with his chores.
